Implementation Date Requested: Fall, 2013

I. PROPOSAL. Write a brief abstract, not exceeding 100 words, which describes the overall content of the proposal.

This proposal modifies the current Communication B.A. into an interdisciplinary B.A. degree, Communication Arts, conforming to the new 120 credit hour limit, consisting of a core of 46 hours, a concentration of 12 hours, 37 hours of general education and 25 hours of free electives. Proposed Concentrations include:

- Government Communication
- Health Communication
- Sport Communication
- Performance Studies
- Public Communication
- Multimedia Communication
- Visual Communication

The Communication Minor is also modified as outlined in Appendix B.

II. DESCRIPTION OF THE PROPOSAL. Provide a response for each letter, A-H, and for each Roman Numeral II–V. If any section does not apply to your proposal, reply N/A.

A. Deletion of course(s) or credit(s) from program(s)

Major Elective Menu deleted from the program (3)
Classes deleted from the program and from the catalog
- COMM 1171 Mass Communication (3)
- COMM 2235 Interpersonal Communication (3)
Class moved from the major (remains a general studies offering)
- COMM 2202 Communication in the world of work (3)
Class removed from the core of the major and moved to a concentration
- THEA 2220 Oral Interpretation (3)

15 credit hours Total hours deleted.

B. Addition of course(s) or credit(s) from program(s)

C. Provision for interchangeable use of course(s) with program(s)

N/A

D. Revision of course content. Include, as an appendix, a revised course description, written in complete sentences, suitable for use in the university catalog.

COMM 2215 Nonverbal Communication (3) revised to Intro to COMM 2213 Communication Theory and Research Practices (3) (see Appendix E)
COMM 4495 Seminar in Communication Issues (3) revised to COMM 4496 Communication in Practice: Internship (3) (See Appendix F)

E. Other changes to existing courses such as changes to title, course number, and elective or required status.

COMM 3345 Oratory (3) This course is the capstone experience for all speech communication majors and minors. Students will study the role of rhetoric/public discourse as an agent of change in a free society, and prepare a persuasive manuscript to be delivered to a public audience. This class prepares students for participation in the M. M. Neely Persuasive Speaking Contest. PR COMM 3337. Spring Semester only.

F. Creation of new course(s). For each new course

1. Designate the course number, title, units of credit, prerequisites (if any), ownership (FSU or shared) and specify its status as an elective or required course. If you are creating a shared course, attach a memo from the Deans of the affected Schools explaining the rationale for the course being shared.

   COMM 2250 Sophomore Seminar (see Appendix C)
   COMM 4420 Contemporary Storytelling (see Appendix D)

2. Include, as an appendix, a course description, written in complete sentences, suitable for use in the college catalog.
3. Include, as an appendix, a detailed course outline consisting of at least two levels.

4. In order to meet the requirements as outlined in Goal One of the Strategic Plan, please include Outcome Competencies and Methods of Assessment as an appendix. Examples are available upon request from the Chair of the Curriculum Committee.

See Appendix G

G. Attach an itemized summary of the present program(s) affected, if any, and of the proposed change(s).

Describe how this proposal affects the hours needed to complete this program. Specifically, what is the net gain or loss in hours? Use the format for Current and Proposed Programs in Appendix A.

This proposal results in a net loss of 8 credit hours from the current Communication B.A. to the Communication Arts B.A. See Appendix A.

III. RATIONALE FOR THE PROPOSAL.
A. Quantitative Assessment: Indicate the types of assessment data, i.e., surveys, interviews, capstone courses, projects, licensure exams, nationally-normed tests, locally developed measurements, accreditation reports, etc., that were collected and analyzed to determine that curricular changes were warranted. Quantitative data is preferred.

In the most recent communication program review, the outside evaluator recommended several changes to the program that would align the major in communication with current practices in communication education and still allow the program to maintain its traditional public speaking focus. Among those changes was the addition of a course devoted to theory and research. The exit conference between the outside evaluator and the communication faculty resulted in a discussion of ways to prepare majors for further study or employment as communication professionals in a world where methods of communication are quickly evolving (e.g., technology, social media). During this discussion, it became apparent that one way for a small academic department to give students a broad understanding of the many facets of communication is to engage them in an interdisciplinary way of seeing the world.

In addition to the program review, the faculty has set up exit interviews for graduating students since the last program review. In the interviews, many students have suggested that while they enjoyed studying communication, they are unsure of a career path and would have appreciated a more structured program and a more structured system for practical experiences including internships. In these exit interviews, the students suggested that while the Neely Oratorical Contest is an excellent experience, they do not think that project is indicative of the skills and understandings they have gained in the communication program.
B. Qualitative Assessment: Based upon the assessment data above, indicate why a curricular change is justified. Indicate the expected results of the change. Be sure to include an estimate of the increased cost, or reduction in cost of implementation. FOR EXAMPLE: Will new faculty, facilities, equipment, or library materials be required?

This change is required by:
1. the need to reduce programs to 120 credit hours,
2. to complete the program review cycle for improvement, and
3. to meet changing student needs for employability.

No new faculty, facilities, equipment or library materials are required. Communication Arts may be separated from Theatre Arts as a separate department and need a coordinator appointed from current faculty. This change in departmental status would be effective with the approval of this proposal.

C. Should this proposal affect any course or program in another school, a memo must be sent to the Dean of each school impacted and a copy of the memo(s) must be included with this proposal. In addition, the Deans of the affected schools must sign below to indicate their notification of this proposal.

By signing here, you are indicating your college's/school's notification of this proposal.

COMM 4496 Communication in Practice: Internship

Course Description

The communication internship is designed to provide students with a supervised opportunity to apply their communication skills in a business or organization. Students are expected to complete a minimum of 100 hours in a meaningful and challenging placement. This placement should be made in cooperation with a member of the communication faculty or a faculty member teaching in a communication track. Students will attend course orientation sessions at the beginning of the semester and course reflection and evaluation sessions at the end of the semester. The final reflection will include a portfolio presentation that demonstrates students’ understanding of communication in theory and practice as well as their own strengths and weaknesses as a communicator. This placement, the reflection, and the portfolio presentation make up the capstone experience for students majoring in communication arts. PR: Comm major.
